BUCKING CONTEST EACH DAY AT THE GLEICHEN EXHIBITION

Two Days of Good Sport--The Exhibits Promise Better Than Ever
Big Crowds Coming From Everywhere

Committees Working Harmoniously to Make Fair a Real Success

Local men have subscribed $100 for additional prizes to the already excellent program of sports for the Tenth Annual Gleichen Exhibition, which opens Friday morning and continues for two days. The extra $100 is for a bucking contest each day and it is divided into three prizes, namely, 1st $50, 2nd $30 and 3rd $20. Everybody likes to see a good bucking contest and as there are at present a number of good riders about town and wild horses close by the contest promises to be a real live one. No entry fee will be charged for this exciting event and it is hoped the cowboys will all enter and show a live interest.

The Women's Institute has secured all out of town judges for the Ladies Work department. Miss Mahaffy of Calgary will judge the fancy work, assisted by Mrs. E. Rielly of Cluny, and Mrs. James Shouflice of Calgary will judge the cooking. E. L. Richardson, manager of the Calgary Exhibition, in a letter to the Institute, "We have had Miss Mahaffy to judge our fancy work on a number of occasions and have always considered her work very satisfactory". Again the ladies should be reminded that classes will be created for all entries made not provided for in the printed prize list. Bring along all your fancy work and help make the exhibition a grand success.

G.W.V.A. MINUTES

At a meeting of the local Veterans the $2000 bonus and housing scheme were unanimously endorsed.

The secretary was instructed to try and arrange with the Agricultural Association a tug of war on Fair day between the veterans and the town of Gleichen.

A committee, consisting of Comrades Skene and Stabback was appointed to interview the members of the Gleichen War Memorial Fund and express the views of the veterans as to the disposal thereof.

A working and organizing committee was appointed to look after the dance to be held on September 1st, consisting of Comrades Frank Scott, Weddell, J. Moss, O. E. Skene and R. Jeffers.

It was also decided to publish extracts of the minutes in the Gleichen Call every week of the G. W. V. A. meetings, which will be held every Sunday in the Gleichen Town Hall at 2 p.m., as the best method of reaching members who are unable to attend.

Entries Must be in by 6 P.M. on Thursday

Entries are not coming in nearly as fast as they might and it is not fair to expect Secretary Mallory to accept them all the last minute. Remember the rules provide all entries must be in the hands of the secretary not later than 6 p.m., Thursday, August 14th. Also bear in mind all exhibits must be in place for judging not later than 10 a.m. on the opening day of the Fair, August 15th.

Encourage the Boys and Girls

The ladies are going strong and we would like to see the boys and girls take a keen interest in their exhibits. Bring in your garden produce, horses, calves, pig, sheep, chickens, and every and anything you have.

Industrial Department Better Than Ever

The industrial department will be better than ever this year and you will have an opportunity of seeing many things you may not other wise see.

Gleichen Fair is Now Widely Known

That the Gleichen Fair is widely known is evident by the secretary receiving letters of enquiry from many points, some as far away as Saskatchewan.

Live Stock Show Promises Good Display

The Live Stock department promises to be good and all who have stock are urged to bring them in as this is where the Association fell down at the last fair and if it is not brought up to the mark the government grant will be withdrawn from our Association.

Two Days Crowded with Good Entertainment

That the entertainment for the two days will be amply provided is now assured that there will be bucking contests each day. This along with the horse races, baseball, etc., will keep the crowds interested all the time, and a big platform is being erected for open air dancing in the evening, while Mrs. Trainor's orchestra and the Gleichen Citizens Band will provide the music.

Grounds to be Illuminated with Delco Light

Arrangements have been completed with the Delco company to exhibit their electric light system by illuminating the grounds both nights, which will be a great help with the open air dancing.

Prof. Barry Will Educate a Wild Horse

Another special attraction will be an exhibition by Prof. Barry of educating a wild horse. Those who have seen his work on McHugh Bros. eight-year outlaw will want to see him train one within the hour, which Prof. Barry agrees to do in sight of the grand stand, where all can see the means he employs.

Don't Miss the Unique Parade--Get into It

Whatever else you may be obliged to miss don't neglect the big unique parade Saturday. It will be worth seeing. Get into it and do your part. Anything on wheels or feet will be accepted without entry fee, from a jackrabbit to an airplane. The livestock alone will be well worth seeing, but there will be many other sights worth while. Whatever you do don't smile out loud if you can possibly avoid it.

Yes, decorate your business places and homes by all means. Get out all the flags and bunting you have and for once brighten up the old town and make folks happy. See if it don't make you cheerful yourself.

Pender & Stabback offer a special prize of $5.00 in goods from their store for the best rider in the bucking contest.

All the various committees are working hard that nothing may be wanting to make the exhibition a success in every particular and that the visitors may go away well satisfied.

U.F.W.A. LAWN SOCIAL

That the ladies of the Gleichen branch of U.F.W.A. are entertainers of the highest order was proven to a nicety Friday night when they gave an ice cream lawn social at Mrs. John C. Buckley's home north of town. The night was ideal for the purpose and there was a steady stream of autos from town and every other direction heading that way during the early evening, where a most pleasant time was spent. A splendid musical program was rendered and much appreciated by all, and throughout the evening the Gleichen Citizens Band enlivened the proceeding with a number of creditable selections and later on supplied the music for an open air dance on a platform hastily erected for the purpose. Ice cream, made from pure cream supplied by the farmers, and cake was served. A most enjoyable evening was spent and it is hoped the ladies will soon repeat the good time.

Prof. Barry has now won the confidence of the cowboys who have been watching closely his system of training horses. Last Wednesday a good crowd attended his sports and there was some good races and bucking, although it was slow between events as it was hard to get riders. He paid cash for all the prizes and was out over $50. The horse chosen by the cowboys for him to train belongs to McHugh Bros. and for eight years has been known as an outlaw. Many of the best horsemen have tried to tame him but each one gave up in disgust. Prof. Barry admitted he had a hard proposition and the horse tried to bite, kick and jump on him and he had many narrow escapes. To make matters worse, despite all his pleadings the children and the Indians would not keep quiet. Nevertheless, in an hour he had the front foot of the animal up and was rubbing him over with his hands. Then he quit as it was late and many had gone home. Since then he has thoroughly broke the horse and if Mayor Tudhope will grant permission he offers to drive the horse about town without lines or bridle and a tin can tied to his tail. Many who doubted Prof. Barry's ability to tame this horse now most frankly admit their mistake. On Monday night The Call man saw Prof. Barry lie on the ground at this horse's feet, lift his foot over his body and the place it on his forehead. Of course, there is the usual talk about "doping", but it is certain no dope could have been given this horse the first couple of hours with a hundreds of people watching the animal closely.

THE COW PUNCHER

"Well, you youngsters must have this country pretty well explored," said Dr. Hardy, as they entered the house. "Where was it today: the prairies, the foothills, or the real fellows behind?"

"The canyon, up the river," said Irene, drawing off her sweater. "What's the cats? Gee, I'm hungry. Getting pretty supple, Daddykins, aren't you?"

"Yes, an' I'm sorry for it, Miss," said the old rancher. "Not wishin' him any harm, or you neither. We was jus' talkin' it over an' your father thinks he's s'pry enough for the road again. Ain't ever goin' to be like it use to be after he's gone, an' you."

So the afternoon's conversation in the canyon and the cabin had been on the same theme, although prompted by very different emotions. Yet the girl wondered whether the loneliness in the old man's heart, which cried out to his own sex, might not bear some relationship to a strange, new sense she herself was experiencing; a sense which reminded her that she was incomplete—and alone. And it called across the barrier of sex for completion.

"We'll be sorry to go," said the doctor. "That's what I've been saying all day, and thinking, too. If misfortunes can be lucky, ours was one of that kind. I don't know when I've enjoyed a holiday so much. What do you say, girl?" he asked, as he rested an arm on her round, firm shoulder and looked with fatherly fondness into the fine brown of her face.

"I've never known anything like it," she answered. "It's wonderful. It's life." Then with a sudden little scream she exclaimed, "Oh, Daddy, why can't you sell your practice and buy a ranch? Wouldn't that be wonderful?"

"Your mother might not see it that way," he replied, and her eyes fell. Yes, that was the obstacle. She would have to go back to the city, and talk by rule, and dress by rule, and behave by rule, and be correct. She wondered how often her father had turned from the path of the true adventure because her mother "might not see it that way."

"It's been a good time," the doctor continued, when they had commenced supper, "but I've already overstayed my holiday. Well, I had good excuse. I feel that I can travel now, and my leg will be pretty strong by the time I am back East. If Dave will oblige us by going to town to-morrow and bringing back someone who can drive a car we will be able to start the following morning. I will just take the car to town and either sell it there or ship it."

The following morning found Dave early on the trail, leading a saddled horse by his side. The hours were leaden for the girl all that day, and looking into the future she saw the spectre of her life shadowed down the years by an unutterable loneliness. How could she ever drop it all—all this wild freedom, this boundless health, this great outdoors, this life, how could she drop it all and go back into the little circle where convention fenced out the thinnest alien streamlet, although the circle itself might lie deep in mire? And how would she give up this boy who had grown so imperceptibly but so intimately into the very soul of her being; give him up with all his strength, and virility, and—yes, and coarseness, if you will—but sincerity too; an essential man, as God made him, in exchange for a machine-made counterfeit with the stamp of Society? Deeply did she ponder these questions, and as the day wore on she found herself possessed of a steadily growing determination that she would not follow the beaten trail, let the by-paths lead where they might.

Darkness, save for a white moon, had settled over the foothills when the boy returned with another young man. The stranger ate a ravenous supper, but was not too occupied to assay conversation with Irene. Indeed, from their meeting at the doorway his eyes scarcely left her. He chose to call her cook.

"Swell pancakes, cook," was his opening remark. "Can you find another for yours truly?"

She refilled his plate without answer.

"Used to know a girl mighty like you," he went on. "Waitress in the Royal Edward, Gee, but she was swell! A pippin! Class! Say, she had 'em all guessing. Had me guessing myself for awhile. But just for awhile." He voiced these remarks with an air of intense self-approval more offensive than the words.

Irene felt the colour rise about her neck and cheeks and run like an overflowing stream into her ears and about her hair. It was evident that, for a second time, Dave had chosen to say nothing to strangers about her presence at the ranch. But that was not what brought the colour. She was addressed as a menial, as a hired helper in the Elden household! Her own honesty told her that even that was not what brought the colour. It was not even the man's insolent familiarity; it was his assumption that his familiarity would not be resented. Her father and Mr. Elden were in Dave's room; Dave had stopped eating and she saw the veins rising in his clenched fists. But the challenge was to her, and she would accept it; she felt no need of his protection.

"Fill your stomach," she said, passing more pancakes; "your head is hopeless."

He attempted a laugh, but the meal was finished in silence. The stranger lit a cigarette, and Irene went to the door with Dave. An over-lace of silver moonlight draped the familiar objects near at hand and faded into the dark, vague lingerie of night where the spruce trees cut their black wedge along the valley.

"Come for a walk," he whispered. "The horses are tired, so let's walk. It's our last chance."

She ran for her sweater and rejoined him in a moment. They walked in silence down a path, through the fragrant trees, but Dave turned from time to time to catch a glimpse of her face, white and fine as ivory in the soft light. He had much to say; he felt that the ages could not utter all he had to say tonight, but he was tongue-tied under the spell of her beauty.

"You squelched him, all right," he broke out at length.

"Just in time, too, I think," she replied. "I was watching your hands." He smiled a quiet but very confident smile. "Reenie," he said, "that fellow makes me sick. All the way out he talked about girls. If it hadn't been that I was makin' the trip for your father I'd 'a' licked him on the road, sure. He's a city chap, an' wears a white collar, but he ain't fit to speak your name. Another minute an' I'd 'a' had 'im by the neck." He seized a spruce limb that stuck across their path. It was the size of a stout stick but he snapped it with a turn of his wrist. It was very tough; it oozed sticky stuff where he broke it. "His neck," he said, between his teeth. "Jus' like that."

They reached an open space. Something black—or was it red?—lay on the ground. Dave bent over it a moment, then looked up to her white, clear face, whiter and clearer than ever since witnessing the strength of his hate.

"It's Brownie," he said, as calmly as he could. "Half et up. Wolves, I guess."

He saw her eyes grow slowly larger in the moonlight. Without a word she sank to her knees. He saw her fingers about her head, burrowing in her hair. Then she looked up, over the black trees, to the sky—with its white moon and its few great stars.

"The poor, poor thing," she breathed. "The poor, innocent thing. Why did it have to die?"

"It's always the innocent things 'at suffers," he answered.

"Always the innocent things," she repeated mechanically. "Always—" She sprang to her feet and faced him. "Then what about the justice of God?" she demanded.

"I don't know nothin' about the justice of God," he answered, bitterly. "All I know is the crittur 't can't run gets caught."

There was a long pause. "It doesn't seem right," she said, at length. "It ain't right," he agreed. "But I guess it's life. I see it here on the prairies, with every living thing. Everything is a victim, some way or other. Even the wolves—at tore this little beast 'll go down to some rancher's rifle, maybe, although they were only doing what nature said. I guess it's the same way in the cities; the innocent bein' hunted, an' the innocent they are the easier they're caught. An' then the wolves beggin' off, an' sayin' it was only nature."

The girl had no answer. No one had ever talked to her like this. What did this country boy know? And yet it was plain he did know. He had lived among the fundamentals.

"I guess I was like that, some," he went on. "I've been caught. I guess a baby ain't responsible for anything, is it? I didn't pick my father or my mother, did I? But I got to bear it."

There was something near a break in his voice on the last words. She felt she must speak.

"I think your father is a wonderful old man," she said, "and your mother must have been wonderful, too. You should be proud of them both."

"Reenie, do you mean that?" he demanded. His eyes were looking straight into hers. Once before he had faced her with that question, and she had not forgotten.

"Absolutely," she answered. "Absolutely, I mean it."

"Then I'm goin' to say some more things to you," he went on, rapidly. "Things 'at I didn't know whether to say or not, but now they've got to be said, whatever happens. Reenie, I haven't ever been to school, or learned lots of things I should 'a' learned, but I ain't a fool, neither. I know 'at when you're home you live thousands of miles from me, but I know 'at in your mind you live further away than that. I know it's like all the prairies an' all the oceans were between us. But I know, too, that people cross prairies an' oceans, an' I'm wantin' to cross. I know it takes time, an' I'll be a slow traveller, but I'm a mighty persistent crittur when I start out. I didn't learn to break all those bottles in a day. Well, I can learn other things, too, an' I will, if only it will take me across. I'm goin' to leave this old ranch, someway, jus' as soon as it can be arranged. I'm goin' to town, an' work. I'm strong; I can get pretty good wages. I've been thinkin' it all over, and was askin' some questions in town today. I can work days and go to school nights. An' I'll do it if it'll get me across. You know what I mean. I ain't askin' no pledges, Reenie, but what's the chance? I know I don't talk right, an' I don't eat right—you tried not to notice, but you couldn't help—but Reenie, I think right, an' I guess with a girl like you that counts more than eatin' and talkin'."

Western Canada Coal Fields

British Columbia and Alberta Have Wonderful Natural Resources.

Fernie, B.C. — The three international board members of the United Mine Workers of America, who are here from across the border in an effort to settle the strike of coal miners in southern British Columbia and Alberta, are tremendously impressed with the great coal resources of this province. The three men are Samuel Ballantyne, of Iowa; Samuel Caddy, of Washington, and William Dalrymple, of Oklahoma. These men are thoroughly familiar with coal fields in every portion of the United States and are students of European conditions in relation to coal production and coal markets.

What has particularly impressed the Americans visiting this field is the fact that in this southeastern corner of British Columbia there are more than 1,000 acres of proved coal lands carrying billions of tons and that the percentage of high grade coals is far in excess of any other bituminous coal field on the American continent, if not in the world.

The Brave Editor.

Messages had come to the office of a great illustrated paper that Zepelins were approaching London.

The editor at once summoned his staff of photographers.

"Now, boys, we've got to have a picture of this Zepp. We were badly beaten on the last. The moment it approaches I want every man to rush to the roof with his camera and stay there, whatever happens, until he gets a picture. Let me know directly you get it. You'll find me under the heap of coal bags in the right-hand corner of the lower cellar!"

Reformatory Boys Help With Harvest

Could Keep All Their Earnings In the Field.

Topeka, Kansas.—A perfect record was scored by 300 inmates of the Kansas Industrial Reformatory at Hutchinson during the wheat harvest. The demand for harvest hands was so great in western Kansas that the state Board of Administration, in charge of all the Kansas charitable, penal, and educational institutions, decided to do what they could to relieve the situation. So the 300 boys and young men in the reformatory were asked if they wanted to go to the wheat fields for the harvest.

They were told that they could keep all their earnings in the fields, all that was asked being that they work honestly and faithfully at their jobs and return to the reformatory when the harvest season was ended and the pressure for extra men was relieved. Every one who could be spared from the institution was allowed to leave. Only the requirements of the 580-acre farm of the institution kept any of the inmates at home. The officials asked for jobs for the men and got them by the hundred and the men were sent out. After completing one job they were free to accept other harvest work until the rush was over. Now the boys have returned to the reformatory and not a single one is missing from the ranks.

Kansas does not send her young men who violate laws to prison. All convicted malefactors of first offenses under 25 years are sent to the reformatory where they learn how to farm or other trades and then are found employment at their trade when qualified to hold positions.

Music Enough.

A Scotch miner lodging at a certain house on the outskirts of a northern city has a great fondness for music. A friend called to spend an evening with him, and after a varied program of music had been gone through, and he was letting his friend out at the street door, he remarked:

"Aa'm thinkin' o' gettin' a pair o' dumbbells, Gordie; will ye cum an' practice wi' me?"

This was too much for the long suffering landlady. "Ye hev a pianer, a fiddle, an' a trumpet," she shouted down the stairs. "No mair musical instruments comes into this hoose."

Courts Martial Hears Stories Of Treason

French Men And Women Tell How They Betrayed Their Country

Paris.—Twenty-five men and women were tried before court-martial here on the charge of having betrayed their country. Three women, accused of acting as informers against their neighbors in the districts occupied by the Seventh German army, have been examined by the court. They are Gabrielle Lambert, Angele Herpsom and Alice Aubert, who were mistresses of German officers and police agents. Aubert, described in the military report of this sordid affair as a "monster," is a hard-faced woman of 25. She told her wretched story of treason in a soft voice and with a callousness which provoked anger in court.

From the first this woman had worked for the Germans. In 1914 she went to Geneva, receiving 200 francs for her mission, and came to Paris in the following year with instructions to report on the state of the French opinion and on the movements of troops. For this mission she received 600f. At this time she was the mistress of a German police agent, who, she alleged, struck her with his fists, whipped her, and threatened to harm her parents in order to compel her to spy.

Her mission to Paris was not considered a success by her paymaster, but afterwards she had an opportunity of pleasing them. She learned from Resell, one of the accused who had won her favors, that two French soldiers had for some time been concealed in a factory chimney, and she informed Thomas, the German police agent, and then asked to be put into a German uniform so that she could be present at the arrest of the men. For this work she and Resell were paid less than 200 francs.

The soldiers were brutally ill-used by Thomas before being shot, and the responsible authorities, M. Fricoteaux, mayor of Angoulême; his assistant and a policeman, suffered the same fate, while the mayor's wife and a baker who had supplied bread to the soldiers and the members of another family, were sent to prison. Aubert did not flinch when the president of the court-martial remarked: "So you have five deaths on your conscience."

Aubert's next exploit was to denounce Bauge, a miller, and mayor of Assis-sur-Serre, who was accused of having given shelter to French aviators. It was a charge trumped up by Reselle and Tassot, a former mayor. The mayor was condemned to death, but his wife, confident of his innocence, obtained a revision of the trial. It was found that Tassot had lied, and he was shot, while the mayor was released.

Gabrielle Lambert, charged with betraying her country, her husband, and her father-in-law, tried to convince the court-martial that by reason of her relations with Thomas she had saved at least one man from being shot, and had obtained lighter sentences for twenty other people. Angele Herpsom confessed that she had denounced a neighbor for no other reason than that she had refused to sell her nails, and another neighbor because she had a bicycle. Thomas, who had turned King's evidence, so to speak, and became an informer in turn—for it was through his confession that twenty-five men and women are undergoing trial—followed the examination of the women with the keenest interest. He told the court-martial that there were more informers than were in the dock, and that not all of them denounced for money.

A man named Lochet confessed that he had worked for the Germans for four years, doing the same sort of work as "these brave gentlemen, Thomas and company." "I do not want to be shot," he added, "but I know that I can be punished, and I accept judgment in advance."

Another of the accused, Moise Lemoine, had for 50 marks denounced a number of people, who, in a camp of prisoners, had seized a homing pigeon without releasing it, and who altogether were sentenced by the Germans to fifty-six years' imprisonment.

A distressing story was told of the doings of another of the accused, Herbert Leandre, who, at the beginning of the war, placed himself under the orders of a German secret police agent. He denounced his own brother as giving shelter to a British aviator, accompanied German spies on their search missions, used torture to compel his unfortunate compatriots to confess, and struck a man and his son and daughter in a prison until blood came. "I was drunk," he said; "and when I am drunk I am mad." The German police agent whom he served declared that Leandre was more terrible than any German, and that he would have him shot by the French after the war. After the armistice this ruffian went into the lines and robbed the bodies of soldiers, and when he was arrested he was wearing the Croix de Guerre.

Honors For Military Leaders

Britain Will Present Victorious Generals With Big Cash Grants.

London.—High titles and money grants will be given by Great Britain to her victorious generals and admirals of the Great War, according to the time-honored custom.

The vote of thanks to the victors will be presented in the house of commons, Wednesday, according to present plans. The name of Marshal Foch will be included.

Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, and Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty, as expected, will be made earls and each will be given a grant of £100,000. Field-Marshal Viscount French of Ypres and Admiral Viscount Jellicoe of Scapa, will be given grants of £50,000.

A number of other commanding officers will be given money grants, making a total for all of £600,000. Premier Lloyd George's name was proposed for some honor by Sir James F. Remnant in the house of commons, but Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader, replied that he had mentioned the matter to the premier, who said he would not for a minute agree to it.

Apple Crop Estimated

Prospects For Big Yield Improves Throughout Country.

Ottawa.—With the exception of Ontario, apple crop prospects have improved in Canada, according to the August 1 report of the fruit commissioner's branch, department of agriculture.

The report says: "Since our last report was published prospects have improved in Nova Scotia and British Columbia. We are now estimating the Nova Scotia crop at 1,250,000 barrels, including all grades packed for export out of the province. As the local consumption is estimated at 200,000 barrels, that brings the total crop up to nearly 1,500,000 barrels, exclusive of fruit used by evaporators, canning factories and cider mills. With the extension of the British apple embargo it is likely that a large portion of the crop will be exported. The Okanagan Valley crop is now estimated at thirty per cent. larger than last year, as compared with the 25 per cent. increase predicted in our last issue."

Manitoba Crop Estimate

Wheat Crop Expected To Be Approximately 45,000,000 Bushels.

Winnipeg.—Manitoba will harvest approximately 45,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, according to a statement given out by Hon. Valentine Winkler, provincial minister of agriculture. He predicted the average yield will be fifteen bushels to the acre. The wheat-acreage of the province is said to be nearly 3,000,000 acres.

Estimating the price of wheat at $2.25 per bushel, Manitoba's wheat crop thus will be worth $101,520,000, as compared with $112,719,000 last year, when the yield was 51,000,000 bushels and the price $2.21 per bushel.

Red rust is reported in a number of Manitoba districts.

Caught At Last.

A father said to his pretty daughter one morning:

"What time did you send that young Simpson home last night?"

"Oh," replied the girl, "I don't think it was very late."

"Why, father?"

"It must have been close to midnight!"

"Didn't you send him out the back door and hurry off to bed when you heard me coming in?"

"Oh, I must have been in bed for hours when you came in."

"You heard me, then?"

"Yes, You woke me up."

"And you had been in bed for hours?"

"Uh huh!"

"That certainly is funny!"

"Why?"

"Because when I went to light the lamp I nearly burned my hands off on the hot chimney."

Railway Passenger Earnings.

The average earnings from passenger train service per passenger train mile in Canada during 1918 were $1,776, as compared with $1,529 in 1917, as shown by statistics compiled by the Department of Railways and Canals. The average earnings per passenger train car mile were 237 cents.

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May Be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and 'the blues,' and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."

—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 926 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Massacre Of Jews By Russians

Troops Surrounded Part Of Odessa, and Not a Soul Escaped Their Ferocity.

London.—A massacre in the Jewish quarter of Odessa, carried out by troops of General Gregoroff, which are occupying that city, is reported in advices received by semi-official Polish sources. The Jewish quarters were surrounded by the troops, it is declared, and a massacre was begun from which no one escaped.

The entire quarter was for three days and nights in the hands of the Russian soldiers, the advices stated.

The Jews of the Ukraine and Bessarabia, it was added, have proclaimed a mourning period of fourteen days.

How You Can Tell Genuine Aspirin

Only Tablets Marked With "Bayer Cross" Are Aspirin

If You Don't See the "Bayer Cross" on the Tablets, Refuse Them—They Are Not Aspirin

There is only one Aspirin, that marked with the "Bayer Cross"—all other tablets are only acid imitations. Look for the "Bayer Cross"! Then it is real Aspirin, for which there is no substitute.

Aspirin is not German, but is made in Canada by Canadians, and is owned by a Canadian Company.

Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" have been proved safe by millions for Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets, also larger "Bayer" packages—can be had at any drug store.

Aspirin is the trade mark, registered in Canada, of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylic acid.

Stamps for Aerial Mail.

Toronto, Ont.—Postage stamps marked "Aerial Mail" are already at the post office here, for use in the trial aerial mail delivery from Toronto to New York and return during the forthcoming aeroplane race, which is to be one of the features of the Canadian National Exhibition.

Can Afford Cars.

Over a third of all the motor cars in Ontario are owned by farmers or drovers, the number being 37,718 out of a total of 109,374 licenses issued in 1918. Yet it is but a few months since farmers were urged to denounce the good roads expenditure as waste.—Toronto Globe.

Effect Of Tariff Changes On Fruit

The Fruit Commissioner's Branch of the Department of Agriculture has made a statement to the effect that apples are not affected by the recent tariff changes. The only change in fresh fruits is the removal of the war tax. Fresh tomatoes and fresh vegetables are same rates as formerly, with the exception of the removal of the war tax. As to potatoes, when imported from a country which imposes a customs duty on potatoes grown in Canada, the tariff is as follows: British preference 12½ cents, intermediate 20 cents, and general tariff 20 cents per bushel.

Are Normal

Cattle Purchase By Manitoba Government Is Now Delayed.

Winnipeg. — As the result of information received by Hon. Valentine Winkler, provincial minister of agriculture, purchase of cattle by the government from the farmers of Alberta will be considerably delayed. A wire received from one of the provincial agents at Calgary stated that at the present time the cattle market was normal and that prices were being well maintained. The message continued by saying that the farmers of Alberta were counting considerably on the government buying scheme and that many of them were holding on to their stock in the hope that they would be able to carry them through the winter as a result of the government's assistance.

It is conservatively estimated, however, that seventy-five per cent. of the stock south of the Red Deer river will have to be sold, the telegram adds. It is not expected, however, that the farmers will commence to sell for at least a month.

Mexicans Seize Property.

El Paso. — Forty-five hundred acres of farming and timber lands valued at $112,500 (gold) belonging to Canadian and United States companies, have been ordered condemned and taken over by the state government of Chihuahua under article 27 of the main constitution. John C. Hayes, general manager of the Babcock Cattle company, was notified of this action, as were the Madera company officials.

Bolsheviki Boulevard

One of Most Interesting Spots in New York at Luncheon Hour.

Lower Fifth avenue from the Waldorf to the Flatiron building—is one of the most interesting spots in New York at the luncheon hour. Some wag has named it Bolsheviki Boulevard. The sidewalks on both sides of the street are crowded with young foreigners who step out of the side streets from the skirt and suit and waist factories.

The consumption of cigarettes in this area during the hour reaches the many thousands. Old men, middle aged and the young smoke fearful smelling cigarettes. A hundred languages from Yiddish to Hindustani are spoken.

They gather in little groups and always there is an argument. Hands wag wildly, and now and then coats are removed and a free-for-all scrap occurs.

Weaving in and out of the crowds in a steady promenade are dark-faced girls with healthy red cheeks and jet black hair who banter with the men, and if a hurdy gurdy plays a popular air, perhaps there will be an impromptu dance in the middle of the street.

It is a milling, jostling crowd and bewildered men selling the Novy Mir, the Jewish Morning Journal, and other papers in foreign languages make a tidy sum. The foreigners like the papers with the screaming headlines. A circulation manager once tried to send a group of boys among the crowd with a staid evening paper to see what would happen. Not one copy was sold.

Snappy young men in checkered suits and striped collars sometimes start a dice-game in a doorway. Lookouts are posted and at a given signal the game ends and they wander off nonchalantly—winking knowingly to their brethren.

Every block has its strike. But despite the labor troubles in the cloak and suit belt, the workers seem to be prosperous. Many made as high as $85 a week. And when it is considered that they have been in this country only a few years and that many do not even speak the English language, it is well nigh remarkable.

Their Worthy Capital.

Paris. — Premier Clemenceau has cited the city of Paris in army orders as follows: "The city of Paris, a capital magnificently worthy of France, animated by patriotic faith which never faltered, bore with firm and smiling courage frequent bombardments by aircraft and long range guns from 1914 to 1918, and has added deathless chapters to her glory."

Mower Inventor Dies Poor

Refused Royalty of $20 On Each Machine; Lost $30,000,000.

Davis W. Entrioken, who died at his home in Kennett Square, Pa., in his ninety-fourth year, was the inventor of the first mowing machine in successful use in this country, and, in fact, of the first horse-driven mower used in the world. It was more than 65 years ago that Mr. Entrioken invented a harvesting machine, and he did his work so well that the principles he utilized at that early day are still found on all the mowers made since.

The mower attracted the widest interest in all farm communities of the country, and Mr. Entrioken, who rarely spoke of the experience, stated that at the outset he had been offered a royalty—the equivalent of $20 for each machine—which in the ensuing quarter of a century would have netted him at least $30,000,000. However, on this point the inventor never complained. His only disappointment lay in the fact that the farmers for whom he had invented the mower were obliged to pay more for the machines than he had hoped.

Canada's Wheat Place.

In average yield in bushels per acre of wheat in the great wheat growing countries of the world, Canada is fourth among eleven countries. The United Kingdom is first with 31.9 bushels, Germany next with 31.8 bushels, Austria third with 20.2 bushels, and Canada fourth with 20.0 bushels per acre, according to statistics compiled by the Department of the Interior.

Recalls a Tragedy.

Capture of a British convoy and two guns by Afghans in the Khyber region recalls the terrible tragedies connected with that district in 1841-2, and which culminated in the extermination of a British column in Khyber pass, while retreating from Kabul to Jellalabad, but one survivor coming through.—Hamilton Spectator.

The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. The number of land messages handled by telegraph organizations in Canada in the year ended June 30, 1917, was 11,817,517, as compared with 10,835,936 in 1916. Cablegrams numbered 1,084,956, as compared with 1,134,905 in 1916. Employees in the service of telegraph organizations numbered 7,100, of which 3,996 were male and 496 female operators. Other officers and employees numbered 2,608. Salaries and wages amounted to $3,278,450, as compared with $2,898,230 in 1916. The aggregate of salaries and wages in 1917 was equal to 77.2 per cent. of operating expenses ($4,243,950), as compared with 68.9 in 1916, as stated in the Canada Year Book.

Strengthen The Farmer Hands

Good Roads and Schools Are Among the Essentials.

If we do not insist upon the best sort of farm homes, and in every way make it easy for those who pursue farming to secure and maintain them; if we do not encourage and set up such standards of farm life as shall keep men and women happy in their work and surroundings, we will find ourselves facing a disastrous lack at the very source of our strength, as well as our production.

To guard against such a contingency we must make good roads, better schools and more active churches our first consideration. There can be no satisfactory farm life where transportation and social intercourse are impeded by mud and ruts. Everyone knows how many farmers have moved to town in order to give their children decent school advantages. And no student of the last dozen years can have failed to recognize the weakness of the rural church as a floral and cultural influence in the community.

These are the three main issues to be met. Anyone who thinks they solely concern the farm is blind to the major problems of world progress. The food crops we raise on our farms during the next ten years will largely determine the physical welfare of half the people on earth. The kind of homes we encourage and make possible on these farms will virtually influence our whole citizenship.

It is no longer a matter of urging a movement back to the farm. That, of course, is necessary. But perhaps the best and surest way of encouraging such a trend is to get back to the farm with all our sense and resources and make it the most attractive, as it is the valuable asset we have.—Philadelphia North American.

Pays Tribute To Haig

Brotherly Feeling Manifested At The Front In France

London.—Marshal Foch paid a remarkable tribute to Field-Marshal Haig during the course of his address after the freedom of the city of London had been bestowed on him. The generalissimo said:

"He spared more than any other the lives of his men. What interviews we had during those last six months! He from the north and I from the south, despite great distances and fatigue, sought each other like two big brothers in order to live in closest intimacy and ensure by absolute community of ideas the more and more rapid march of our armies. We had to do so to force events."

"On that November 9 I sent Field-Marshal Haig the following telegram, feeling certain I should be loyally followed by him and his armies:

"The disorganized enemy, owing to the repeated attacks, is giving way along the entire front. It is essential to maintain and accelerate our operations. I call upon the energy and initiative of the commanders-in-chief and their armies in order to secure and render decisive the results obtained."

Marshal Foch concluded: "Let us salute the glorious dead who sleep in France. Faithfully, piously and jealously we shall guard them and keep their memory alive, because to us they are a testimony and a pledge."

Torture Of Greeks Alleged

Turkish Officials Along Black Sea Coast Are Accused.

New York. — The American Committee for Relief in the Near East has made public a letter from Dr. George E. White, representative of the committee, to Prof. J. P. Xenides, secretary of the Greek Relief Committee here, charging that Turkish officials decimated the Greek population of 250,000 along the Black Sea coast, between Sinope and Ordu, without bloodshed, but by "parboiling" the victims in Turkish baths and turning them, half clad, into the snow in the Anatolian winter.

The worst of these crimes, the letter says, were committed in the winter of 1916 and 1917, when orders were issued for the deportation of the Greeks along the Black Sea coast. Under the pretense of "sanitary" regulation, the people, it is said, were crowded into the steam rooms of the baths in Chorum, and, after being tortured for hours, were turned out into snow almost knee deep, without lodging or food, and with their garments taken away.

In the Province of Bafra, less than 13,000 of the 29,000 Greeks now survive, and every Greek settlement has been burned, says Dr. White, and the number of orphans in the entire district is 60,000, including some Armenian and Turkish children. Many of the deportees have returned to their homes since the armistice was signed.

Indorses British Seaman Fund

President Wilson Eulogizes Part Played By British Seamen

New York. — "I am very glad indeed to have an opportunity to add my voice to the tribute," President Wilson writes in a letter received at the national headquarters of America's tribute to British merchant seamen, 665 Fifth Avenue. The organization is organizing a nation-wide movement to raise a large fund in the United States to aid the 30,000 British civilian sailors who came out of the war maimed and disabled.

President Wilson's letter says of the British merchant seamen: "Along with our gallant seamen, they have rendered a service to humanity in the great war which has just ended which enrolls them among the true servants of freedom and civilization. I am sure that I am speaking, when I say this, for the people of the United States, and particularly for the American seamen who have taken a like part in the great enterprise of liberty."

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way: Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well, and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

Germany May Release Russians.

Paris. — Marshal Foch expressed before the supreme council Saturday afternoon in connection with the discussion of the Russian prisoners. The condition of the Bulgarian army also was taken up. The council decided to inform Germany that all restrictions on the movement of Russian prisoners held in Germany have been lifted. Germany may now release such prisoners. There are between 200,000 and 250,000 Russian prisoners in Germany.

Strength Of Canada's Wheat Commends It

Weak Wheats of England Require Mixing With the Strong Wheats of Canada.

The baking strength of Canadian wheat is what commends it the most to the English trade. The weak wheats of England require mixing with the strong wheats of Canada. As long as the Dominion produces wheat that will answer this purpose, just as long will Canada's wheat be popular with the English miller. There is only one way in which Canada could weaken her reputation for the production of wheats of high baking strength, and that is by the individual grower shifting his attention from the recommended and well-known varieties of Canadian wheat to unknown sorts which have not been thoroughly tested and their baking strength established, according to a recent statement by the Dominion Cerealists, C. E. Saunders, Department of Agriculture.

The Pathos Of Devastation

France Had Visible Aspect of Having Been Bled White.

France's loss of manpower is one of the obvious things. Six months after the armistice there were women conductors upon the street cars, women working about the railroad yards, women everywhere in the fields.

France had a visible aspect of having been bled white. Men along in the forties could be seen in soldier uniform and everywhere there seemed an actual shortage of human power. It is sad to remember that during the war the population of France, quite aside from all military losses, showed a decrease of 800,000—800,000 more deaths than births.

I traversed the whole distance of the French front. The pathos of that devastated territory is beyond words, the all but homeless people camping in wrecked buildings with windows screened with paper. Patient peasants toiling northward with scanty furnishings for the home they hoped to return to were poignant sights when one had come fresh from the regions toward which they were going and knew that no roof stood in all the land.

June Revenue

Ottawa. — During June war taxes collected by the department of inland revenue totalled $1,378,025. The total revenue of the department from all sources for the month was $4,586,088, a large increase over the month of June, 1918, when the revenue amounted to $2,993,630. The largest source of revenue for the month was tobacco, the excise taxes on which brought $2,425,650 to the treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ash left in their car last week for their home in Michigan. They intend to go through Yellowstone Park on their way and visit other points of interest.

Rain at last! There is an old saying that it is a long lane that has no turn and it fits our weather conditions out here. After missing every one of the few showers a good rain fell in Queenstown one night last week that wet down several inches and again on Sunday, August 2nd, we had a soaking rain that lasted all night. Of course, this came too late for the wheat and oat crops, but it will help out the green feed and pasture, as well as potatoes and other garden stuff and will put the land in good condition for crops next year.

The Lake MacGregor bathing beach is still the most popular place in the whole district, and great crowds go in swimming or gather around the shores of the beautiful body of water every Sunday.

It would take a rather brave man to undertake to boost this and most any other part of Southern Alberta this year. Still there may be some consolation in knowing that other places are still worse off. Quite a number of people who have passed through some of the north western States lately claim the Queenstown district and the country further north is a veritable Garden of Eden compared with what they have seen further south. Campbell's Scientific Farmer, published in Billings Montana, says that at least 500,000 farmers will pick up and leave Montana this year, as this makes the third year of drouth in that state.

L. Aasgard, who made a trip in his car to Conrad, Montana, in order to buy "heathers", says that for miles and miles along the road farm houses were boarded up and deserted. Every little town was filled with stock brought in by farmers awaiting transportation to better pasture, and along every road he passed were farmers with their families in big "prairie schooners" leaving the country.

It seems to me that both the United States and Canadian governments, who usually are able to raise money for everything else, should wake up and raise money to loan to those unfortunate settlers that they may be able to stay and not have to lose their homes and the result of years of hard labor. Weather conditions cannot always remain bad. There must surely be a turn before long.

Callings Followed By Returned Soldiers

Agriculture Makes a Net Gain of 15,553 Men.

Ottawa. — Up to the present 273,444 members of the Canadian army have completed the demobilization questionnaires which were issued by the Department of Soldiers Civil Re-establishment. Of this number 87,771 expressed their wish to engage in stock-raising or agriculture. Of these, 20,269 are leaving other occupations to take up agriculture. As 4,716 men recently engaged in farming, have expressed the desire to take up other lines of activity, agriculture makes a net gain of 15,553 men. Accessions to professional and general occupations number 20,409, there being, on the other hand, 12,708 men who desire to leave these occupations. It is interesting to note that one out of every five soldiers is anxious to change his method of earning his living on getting out of khaki.

Airplane Fell With Russian Coin.
Berlin. — A special despatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Rybnik, Upper Silesia, says a large German airplane, belonging to a German airship works, fell during a flight, killing seven of its occupants, including the pilot, Bindorff.

The accident occurred near Rati-bor. The airplane carried three million rubles in Ukrainian money and a sack of Russian money.

The despatch says the airplane carried important documents belonging to the Ukrainian government.

Flying In Winter Weather

Aviators Say Extreme Cold Can Be Combated for Commercial Traffic in Winter.

Winnipeg. — "Flying in Manitoba in winter time is possible and probable," said Captain A. L. Cuff, late of the Royal Air Force. "The extreme cold can be easily overcome by electrically heated apparatus and clothing. The electric heating is exceptionally economical for the aviator as it is derived from a small electric engine, driven by air screws. The whole apparatus weighs only five pounds." Captain G. A. Thompson, of Guelph, Ont., and late of the R.A.F., also told of his experiences of winter flying in France. "Without electrically-heated clothes or any of the latest inventions that not only make winter-flying possible, but also enjoyable, I have flown until my engine radiators have become frozen from the intense cold," he said. "Of course," he added, "with the anti-freeze preparations now obtainable this difficulty has been overcome."

Captain Cuff and Captain Thompson are at present in the city for the purpose of organizing and promoting a company for the purpose of commercial navigation by airplane.

Omsk. — Petrograd's population which was more than 2,000,000 in 1912, has decreased under Bolsheviki rule to 800,000, according to documents and newspapers taken from Bolsheviki prisoners here. Moscow's population was shown to have diminished by 40 per cent.

Tracing The Missing

London Record Offices Have Many Men Unaccounted For.

London. — Records offices in London of the various overseas forces are making their last grand tally, and trying to trace every man who has appeared on their books. Up to the present some 7,000, or about one per cent, of the total cannot be accounted for. Not all these men are considered to be definitely lost. Some have gone on furlough, and accepted work without the formality of communicating with the authorities; others have married and settled down in preference to returning to camp and telling the colonel; others are restless men, many of whom will trickle back.

The South Africans have but 25 absentees, every other man of the 26,000 who came over being accounted for. The New Zealanders are 300 short.

Most of the missing are Australians and Canadians, and it will take a long time for the military police to round them up and shepherd them into concentration camps. Some of the Dominion governments are publishing advertisements warning these men to return by a certain date unless they wish to forego their gratuity and free passage home.

No Minimum Price For Wheat

James Stewart is President of Wheat Purchasing Board of Ten to Twelve Members.

Ottawa. — Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, officially announces the appointment of James Stewart, of Winnipeg, formerly head of the wheat purchasing commission, to the position of president of the new board which has been created for the purpose of handling the Canadian wheat crop. The minister states that the board will comprise ten or twelve members, several of whom will constitute themselves as an executive committee. The full quota has not yet been made up.

Sir George Foster states that there is an apparent misunderstanding of the board of the proposal which has been agreed upon for the handling of the crop. "It is being represented," he declared, "that the government is fixing a minimum price for wheat. Such is not the case. What the government proposes is to pay the farmer a set price as the initial installment on his wheat. It will then relieve him of the responsibility of marketing, etc. When the grain is sold on the markets of the world, the farmer will secure the difference between what he got and what it brought, minus transportation and other charges."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surface of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed for ever. Many cases of Deafness are cured by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces. Trying To Shift The Blame

Arrogant Claim That Allied Statesmen Plotted the War.

Copenhagen. — The former Prince Henry of Prussia, in a letter to King George, published by the Hamburger Nachrichten, says the truth about the war may be had from the allied statesmen, and he suggests that if the former German emperor is placed on trial the statesmen also appear.

The letter asks King George, "In the name of justice and his own interests," to desist in demanding the extradition and trial of the former emperor of Germany. The letter which is signed "your humble cousin, Henry," charges that England plotted Germany's commercial downfall.

If the allies want the truth, the former prince says, the leading statesmen of Great Britain and her allies should also be brought before the tribunal, "as primarily and urgently suspected of guilt in the world war."

The letter continues: "Germany and her brave people have been hit severely but they are not yet dead. The German spirit which now seems dead, still lives and will one day awaken to full consciousness of the disgrace and shame which have been inflicted and will one day demand a reckoning."

The letter charges that it was solely the British government which for years prepared the world war, in order to eliminate Germany as a troublesome competitor from the world's markets.

Prince Henry continues: "Let me only remind your majesty of your meetings with M. Sazonoff (then Russian minister of foreign affairs) in September, 1912, at Balmoral, and the utterances of your majesty on that occasion which leave no doubt of the fate planned for the German war and merchant navy."

Germany was overcome, Prince Henry declares, not by the arms of the entente, but by a silver bullet which lodged in the back of the German people. The latter refers to the hunger blockade "which failed as little in effect upon the German people as did former British measures against the women and children of the Boers."

British Supervision for Estonia.

Coblenz. — A German wireless despatch says that, according to Revel newspapers, British supervision over that part of Estland (Estonia) near the province of Petrograd has been decided upon. The system of supervision will be that followed in Egypt, the despatch adds.

Belgium Demands Redress

Brussels, Belgium. — The Antwerp branch of the committee of the Belgian National Party has telegraphed to Mr. Clemenceau that the people of Antwerp anxiously await the rectification of the century-old wrongs committed against the Belgian people by the restricted navigation of the Schelde.

Common ownership, they declare, only means dissensions. Belgium demands direct access by a channel over which she possesses exclusive sovereignty and also redress for the crime of 1839. The telegram adds: The linking up of the port of Antwerp with the wharves at Liege, Namur, and Charleroi necessitates the possession of the Meuse in the Maastricht enclave.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

History of Prohibition.

Chicago. — The history of the prohibition movement in the United States will be reviewed at the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Prohibition Party, to be observed here September 1 and 2. This will take place at a banquet on the first, and the next evening a big mass meeting will be addressed by leaders of the party.

THE CAUSE OF SICKNESS

Almost Always Due to Weak, Impoverished Blood.

Apart from accident or illness due to infection, almost all ill-health arises from one or two reasons. The great mistake that people make is in not realizing that both of these have the same cause at the root of them, namely poor and improper blood. Either bloodlessness or some trouble of the nerves will be found to be the reason for almost every ailment. If you are pale, suffer from headaches, or breathlessness, with palpitation of the heart, poor appetite and weak digestion, the cause is almost always bloodlessness. If you have nervous headaches, neuralgia, sciatica and other nerve pains, the cause is run down, exhausted nerves. But run down nerves are also a result of poor blood, so that the two chief causes of illness are one and the same.

This accounts for the great number of people, once in indifferent health, pale, nervous and dyspeptic, who have been made well and hearty by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; for no other medicine ever discovered is so valuable for increasing the supply of rich red blood and giving strength to worn out nerves. Men and women alike greatly benefit from a course of the splendid blood builder and nerve tonic.

If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

General Pershing's Return.

Paris. — General Pershing was accorded an enthusiastic ovation at the close of a review of American troops in the Bois de Vincennes. Before the review General Pershing said, in an interview, that he would not return to the United States before the first week in September. The American army would be completely demobilized by Sept. 30, he added, except the detachments, not exceeding 6,000 to 7,000 men, in the army of occupation. The American headquarters would probably be established at Coblenz, he said.

Wireless Telephony In Night flying

Test Carried Out During a Recent Night Flight from Kenley to Paris.

London, England. — The extraordinary value of wireless telephony for directional purposes in connection with aircraft has been emphasized recently in its relation to night flying. It often happens that in daylight inter-communication between planes, or between wireless stations and aircraft is unnecessary, but in flying across country at night the use of the wireless phone will become more and more efficacious.

Some details are now available of a test carried out during a recent night flight from Kenley to Paris. This in no way constitutes a record, but is nevertheless interesting as indicating what is being done as a matter of routine. Wireless telephony has now been definitely adopted as a means of ground-to-air communication and vice versa, on the London-Paris route, and the test in question was made with one of the first machines on this service fitted for the purpose.

Communication was opened as soon as the Handley Page had obtained height and, after speaking to the ground station, the receiver was turned in and speech was very clearly heard from Kenley. The officer conducting the test emphasizes in his report, speech, quality, and strength, and states that he easily recognized the voice as that of an officer known to him. To a distance of about 35 miles the strength of signals was so great that speech from the machine could be clearly heard at Kenley with the receiver laid upon the table. At 50 miles it was still distinct and constant and was heard until the aeroplane was crossing the channel and was in touch with Marquise, the first ground station on the French side.

On the return journey conversation between the machine and Marquise was again picked up at Kenley, and the latter station itself was in communication with the machine 30 minutes before it landed.

One of the recent developments in this connection is the production of an aeroplane set which can be converted within a few moments for transmission of either voice or Morse signals.

Pride In The Dominion

Sir G. Perley On What Canada Accomplished During the War.

Ottawa. — Sir George Perley, High Commissioner for Canada in London, England, has returned to the capital after an absence of several years. In the course of some remarks to an interviewer, Sir George Perley said that to his mind "perhaps the strongest fact brought home to us all by the war is the strength and influence of the English-speaking peoples when they work and pull together. We all hope for the success of the League of Nations, but I believe the first essential to the peace of the world is the continued close friendship now so happily established between the United States and the British Empire."

"We are all proud of what Canada has been able to do in the war. We are proud of our fighting forces and of the way our organization was carried through. No words can express our admiration for the patience and devotion of our women and the way in which our people backed up those at the front. The test came to Canada unexpectedly and I doubt if any of us realized how great her strength really was or how fine an effort could be made by a country with such a small population. The feelings uppermost in our minds today should be keen rejoicing that victory is really with us after our bitter struggle, and grateful thankfulness that we have been able to do our share honorably and enduring pride in the gallant deeds of our brave troops which will be an inspiration to all generations of Canadians."

Grain Wasted In Threshing.

Necessity for practical education of threshermen was brought out strikingly by results in Minnesota last year recording the normal waste of grain in threshing. Comprehensive tests, which included the work of the more than 6,500 machines in the Gopher State, showed that the average avoidable loss in threshing wheat was 4.6 bushels a day, worth approximately $9.64; while the avoidable loss in threshing oats was 9.1 bushels daily, worth then $5.46. Some of the separators wasted as much as 50 bushels wheat a day, worth, on the basis of the October market, $103. Twenty-five per cent. of all the machines tested in Minnesota showed an avoidable loss, due to machines being out of repair or improperly adjusted, of 15 bushels a day.

Far East As Field For Canadian Trade

Offers Many Opportunities, Not In Any Particular Thing, But Generally.

Vancouver, B.C. — China and Japan present a big field for Canadian trade, declared Sir Edmund Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, on his arrival here, after an extended tour in the Orient in company with Mr. Logan, San Francisco, chief of the foreign exchange department of the bank, and Mr. Holt, Vancouver, manager. During the tour, they made an exhaustive examination of commercial conditions and prospects.

"The whole East offers very many opportunities for Canadian trade; not in any one particular thing, but generally," said Sir Edmund. "There is one important point that I must emphasize, however, and that is that there is no trade to be obtained without a systematic campaign being instituted to capture it. It needs a fight to capture the citadel of the East, but it is well worth taking."

Coming Flight From Britain To Australia

Official Rules for Prize Offered by the Australian Government.

London, England. — The Royal Aero Club has issued the official rules for the £10,000 prize offered by the Australian Government for a flight from Great Britain to Australia. The flight must be accomplished in an aeroplane or seaplane, in 720 consecutive hours, and must have been completed by midnight on December 31, 1920. The complete aircraft and all its component parts must have been entirely constructed within the British Empire, and the start must be made from either Hounslow Aerodrome or Calshot seaplane station. The rules differ from those forecasted in the decision that there shall be only one control, at Singapore, where all competing craft must alight for purposes of identification. The following entry for the prize has been received: Bert Hinckler, Sopwith Dove bi-plane, 80 horsepower Le Rhone engine.

Record Price for Farm Land.

A record price of $150 an acre for a quarter-section of farming land in Alberta was paid by a settler from Wyoming for a farm near Coaldale in the A. R. and I. block of irrigated lands, says a report from the Winnipeg office of the Department of Immigration and Colonization.

France Holds Feast of Gratitude.

Paris. — A "feast of national gratitude" was held throughout France and in the reconstructed provinces of Alsace and Lorraine.

In the presence of great crowds, messages from President Poincare, Premier Clemenceau and Marshal Foch were read. The exercises were of a religious character. In numerous cities school children visited the cemeteries to place wreaths on the graves of the soldiers of France and her allies who had lost their lives in the war, and everywhere homage was paid to the men who had fought to save the nation.

Naval Pageant In Old London

Symbolizing Role of British Sea Services in War Were Five Miles of Craft.

London. — The important role played by the British sea service during the great war was commemorated by a naval pageant on the Thames, the day marking the fifth anniversary of the historic mobilization of the British fleet. Plans for the event, while giving recognition to the allied and associated powers laid stress on the fact that this was a purely British occasion and the Union Jack and the banners of St. George, St. Patrick, St. Andrew and St. David predominated in decorations along the riverside. Tower Bridge was the point selected for the start of the five-mile procession.

On account of the fact that the space beneath the Thames bridges is somewhat limited it was impossible to include the large vessels in the pageant, but the procession lost nothing of interest on account of this. King George's royal barge was in service. It was built more than 200 years ago for Queen Mary by King William and was richly ornamented with crimson and gold.

In planning the celebration, efforts were made to symbolize the development of Great Britain's naval power and typify the connection between the navy and the mercantile marine.

The procession, which was marshalled at the Tower Bridge at 4 p.m., spread out five miles and when the head of the line reached Chelsea, and as it turned with the tide the tail of the procession was just leaving the starting point. As it moved along the Thames the huge bank, holiday crowds which lined the embankments swarmed on the bridges and perched upon railings and roofs of houses and in trees on both sides of the river gave the pageant a tumultuous greeting.

The progress of King George in the royal barge was marked by particular attention. His journey up the river was greeted with progressive roars of cheers on both banks, the noise culminating in an explosion of applause as the barge shot into the Cadogan pier at Chelsea, opposite Battersea Park, where the King disembarked and was received by the admiralty and civic officials.

After King George landed he took the salutes of the passing boats, while standing under a gorgeous royal banner prepared by the League of Arts. The bridges, the embankments, and the houses along the stream were ablaze with festal colors. Even the wharves were lavishly decorated, piles being painted variously orange, green, red, white, and blue, making a vivid contrast with the muddy waters of the river. Numerous bands along the shore made music as the procession passed, interspersing the national airs with such wartime favorites as "Tipperary" and "The Long, Long Trail," while choruses stationed here and there sang rollicking sea chants.

The procession was a brilliant one as a whole, being commented upon by many witnesses of this and other similar celebrations as probably surpassing in beauty and variety of effects any marine pageant of modern times.

Mackenzie King Is Liberal Leader

Ottawa. — Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of labor in the Laurier administration, is the new leader of the Liberal party. He was so acclaimed on the eve of the close of the national Liberal convention, when his most formidable rival, Hon. W. S. Fielding, moved that his election be made unanimous. Mr. King, who subsequently spoke, was given an ovation, as was also Mr. Fielding, when he congratulated his successful opponent on his victory. Mr. King was elected on what is officially the fourth ballot, but, as a matter of fact, only three votes were taken. This because some of the delegates cast their votes in the third ballot before Hon. George P. Graham had announced his decision to retire and the ballot was thrown out. There was a similar mixup when a number of delegates voted before D. D. McKenzie retired. As a result it was decided to take the fourth ballot on number five ballot papers. With the contestants reduced to two in number, the interest in the final vote was intense. The vote, as announced by Hon. G. H. Murray, chairman of the convention, was 476 for Mr. King and 438 for Mr. Fielding, majority for the former of 38.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Bread Shortage In London

British Labor Situation Is Still Unchanged and Strikes Continue. London. — There is virtually no change in the labor situation. The strikes of bakers and Yorkshire miners are still unsettled, but the railway position in London is resuming its normal condition. The situation at Liverpool is greatly improved, but the tramway strike continues and there is a great scarcity of bread.

It was announced in the house of commons that for the week ending July 26, the coal output was nearly fifty per cent. under the previous average. Other interesting announcements in parliament were that the government was preparing a bill for future regulation of the liquor trade and also that in a few exceptional cases Germans were being admitted to England to trade, under close scrutiny. No indication as to the contents of the bill with regard to the liquor trade was given.

In the east end of London, where the bread shortage is most acute, queues formed outside the independent bakeries, but were mostly disappointed, for the bakers, after working continuously for thirty hours, displayed signs reading "Closed for the day for rest."

A rush was made for a shop where a notice appeared that another batch of bread would be ready in the afternoon.

The strikes on the Southwestern railway and in the South London tube were virtually ended.

The prince will remain in Quebec until Sunday the 24th inst.

Winnipeg. — Ira Stratton, president of the Manitoba Civil Service association, has resigned.

Lansing Favors League

Declares Adopted Covenant Far Superior to So-Called American Plan.

Washington. — The plan finally adopted for the league of nations covenant is far superior to the so-called American plan, Secretary Lansing declared before the senate foreign relations committee. Senator Lodge began the questioning of Lansing by asking where the committee can get a copy of the American plan for the league.

Lansing said he did not know. The state department has no copy, he said and none was ever laid before the conference.

The American draft was shown to Lansing by President Wilson, and Lansing returned it to the president. "Who wrote the American plan?" asked Senator Brundidge.

"I assume the president wrote it," said Lansing.

"Don't you know two New York lawyers wrote it for the president and took it to Europe?"

"That's not true," said Lansing.

Committee members were unable to learn from Lansing of any differences between the American plan and that finally adopted. Lansing denied he had written a plan, but said he had submitted a general resolution covering broad general principles of the league before the league commission in Paris. No action was taken on it, he said.

Lodge also questioned him concerning the method of raising money to pay the league's expenses.

Lansing said he assumes a budget will be made and each nation told how much it should pay. Congress can decide whether to appropriate the full apportionment required of the United States, he said.

Empire Flax Growing

British Government Urges Flax Industry To Be Augmented.

London. — An interim report of the empire flax-growing committee declares it is essential that the government's efforts to foster a revival of flax-growing in the United Kingdom and extend cultivation within the empire which has achieved a considerable measure of success should be continued until the full value is derived from the industry.

The scheme for supply of fibre seed from Western Canada should continue until such time as owing to the return of normal conditions or the development of other sources of supply the question of a seed supply for the United Kingdom is put on a permanently satisfactory basis.

First Flight Over Rockies

Captain Hoy Landed at Calgary and Warmly Welcomed.

Calgary. — Captain Hoy successfully completed the first air flight over the Canadian Rockies, when he landed at Bowness Park, west of the city, at 8.55, in the presence of a great crowd of citizens. Hoy was met by Acting Mayor McCoubrey, Brig.-Gen. McDonald, officials of the air club and others, and tendered a luncheon at the Palliser.

Hoy made a perfect landing and is none the worse for his trip. He states that his trip was most enjoyable and successful in every way. His time from Lethbridge to Calgary, a distance of 130 miles, was one hour and forty minutes. He made the trip in from Vulcan to the city, 80 miles, in 25 minutes.

Allies To Buy Pork

Undertake Purchase Through a Common Buying Agency in the United States.

Paris. — The allied governments as represented at the conference of their representatives in London have agreed to undertake the joint purchase of pork products through a common buying agency in the United States. It is expected the arrangements will go into effect on Aug. 8.

Germany, through the reparations committee will probably be required to buy its pork products through the same agency in order to avoid competition.

Japan Respects Chinese Sovereignty.

Tokio. — Viscount Uchida, the Japanese foreign minister, is a statement, declares that Japan does not intend to claim any rights affecting the territorial sovereignty of China in Shantung. He promises that the Japanese troops will be withdrawn immediately an arrangement is concluded with China. Japan, moreover, the foreign minister's statement adds, is considering the establishment at Tsing Tao of a general foreign settlement instead of a purely Japanese settlement.

Police Favored Strikers

Sensational Testimony Added To Evidence In Case of Seditious Conspiracy.

Winnipeg. — Direct evidence that the city police stood by and watched the strikers, on the first day of the strike, while they deliberately maltreated citizens on their way to work, trespassed and destroyed property, was given at the trial of the eight strike leaders by A. A. Riley, of the Canada Bread company. Denial that the citizens' committee of one thousand was a "capitalistic concern" and that it was formed for any other purpose than endeavoring to continue the operation of public utilities during the strike was also tendered by Edward Parnell, of the Speirs-Parnell Baking company, at the morning session. Sandy Cuthbert, of the city street commissioners' department, also told of threats that had been made if he did not quit work. He stated that one of the strikers, an Austrian, and a former employee of this department, had threatened to kill him.

R. B. Graham, crown prosecutor, was the first witness called at the afternoon sittings of the court. He stated that the police were permitted to remain on duty by the strike committee but could have been called out at a moment's notice and that at the outbreak of the trouble in Winnipeg they were not subservient to the orders of them, but rather the strikers.

A. A. Riley, manager of the Canada Bread company, gave evidence that he had no notice of the strike until about 2.30 p.m. the first day of the strike. That evening, said the witness, an organized gang, two truckloads of "strong-arm men," came from downtown under the leadership of a man named Winters, whom witness believed was organizer for the carpenters. These men forcibly entered the building, shut off the machinery and prevented the men from working.

"In response to a call by telephone for aid, a police officer came," said witness, "and as we entered the building Winters came out. Speaking to the officer he said: 'We've cleared the last scab out.' The policeman replied: 'That's fine.' Turning to the policeman, I said: 'This is pretty tough luck; they've done some damage,' and he replied: 'I know, but the people are not going to stand for your business to be carried on like this you know.'"

Rioting At Liverpool

Soldiers Charged Mob With Bayonets and Distant Shots Are Heard.

Liverpool. — Troops at midnight charged with bayonets and dispersed a crowd of persons outside St. George's Hall. Several of the soldiers were beaten with axe-handles by the mob. At the same time, firing was heard in the Scotland road district. Details of the trouble there have not yet been received.

The clash outside of St. George's hall resulted from an attack on a sentry by rowdies who endeavored to take away the sentry's rifle. The sentry fired his gun in the air and a squad of troops responded and charged the disturbers.

Troops Refused To Obey Orders

Mutiny Caused Polish General To Resign Command.

Berlin. — A despatch to the Vorwaerts from Bromberg, province of Posen, says it has been learned that the real reason for the resignation of General Musnik, commander of the Polish troops in Posen, was that there had been sanguinary mutinies of Polish troops in Posen, Gnesen and Warthe, and also at the front.

Entire companies and even battalions, the despatch says, refused to obey orders and maltreated their officers. In the Warthe camp, officers, who endeavored to have resort to arms, were shot dead or were badly wounded.

The reason for the disturbances is given as growing discontent on the part of the soldiers at the Russian system, which Musnik introduced.

U. S. Lecturers Are Classed As Intruders

British People Would Settle Their Affairs Themselves.

London. — Answering a question in the house of commons as to whether the government considered interfering the U. S. citizens here for a prohibition campaign that "the British electors prefer to settle their domestic questions for themselves," Edward Shortt, secretary of home affairs, said:

"I am disposed to agree with the suggestion that the British people can settle this matter for themselves, but, as I have stated, I do not think this step by the government necessary."

The first part of the home secretary's answer was cheered.

Exemption Cases

New Judgment Has Important Bearing on Legality of Orders-in-Council.

Montreal. — A judgment which may have an important bearing upon all exemption cases under the Military Service act, in that it questions the legality of an order-in-council cancelling exemptions which have been duly and legally granted under the letter of the act, was handed down by Judge Leet in the case of Lafard vs. Senecal.

It is indicated in the judgment that it may be necessary to rehear most of the cases. The judgment says that no order-in-council could abrogate penalties imposed under the Military Service act and likewise should not be allowed to cancel exemptions granted.

Britain's Thanks

Formal Reception Given Military Leaders and Others for War Services.

London. — Marshal Foch of France, the allied chief in command, and various military and auxiliary services of Great Britain that served in the war, were given a formal vote of thanks by the house of commons. The vote included mention of the British women's organizations. The formal thanks of the government is part of the recognition given for war services. King George made known his recommendation for titles and large money grants to a number of the commanding officers of the land, air and sea forces.

To Guard Against National Bankruptcy

Strong Tariff Resolution

Text of Resolutions Submitted to the National Liberal Convention.

Ottawa. — The full text of the tariff resolutions submitted to the national Liberal convention was as follows:

"That the best interests of Canada demand that substantial reductions of the burdens of customs taxation be made with a view to the accomplishing of two purposes of the highest importance: First, diminishing the very high cost of living which presses so severely on the masses of the people; second, reducing the cost of the instruments of production in the industries based on the natural resources of the Dominion, the vigorous development of which is essential to the progress of our country."

"That to these ends, wheat, wheat flour, and all products of wheat, the principal articles of food, farm implements and machinery, farm tractors, mining, floor and sawmill machinery and repair parts thereof; rough and dressed lumber, gasoline, illuminating, lubricating and fuel oils, etc., net twines, and fishermen's equipments; cements and fertilizers, should be free from custom duties, as well as the raw material entering into the same."

"That a revision downwards of the tariff should be made whereby substantial reductions should be effected in the duties of wearing apparel, and footwear and on other articles of general consumption (other than luxuries) as well as on the raw material entering into the manufacture of the same."

"That the British preference be increased to 50 per cent. of the general tariff, and the Liberal party hereby pledges itself to implement by legislation the provision of this revision when returned to power."

The Order Of Merit

Lloyd George Receives Token of Appreciation From the King.

London. — King George has conferred upon Premier David Lloyd George the Order of Merit as a sign of his appreciation of Lloyd George's war services. In a letter to the premier, dated Buckingham Palace, August 5, announcing the award, the King says:

"My Dear Prime Minister: 'Honors and rewards to officials of the army, navy and air forces having been submitted to parliament, I feel that my people will share with me regret that it is not possible to express the nation's grateful recognition of the persistent services rendered by the prime minister, both in carrying the war to a victorious end, and in securing an honorable peace. To rectify somewhat this omission, and, personally, to mark my high esteem, it gives me great pleasure to confer upon you the Order of Merit. Believe me,

"Yours very sincerely, (Signed) "GEORGE, R.I."

Ferdinand Offered Doubtful Honor.

Berlin. — According to a Vienna despatch to the Zwölf Uhr Blatt, the counter-revolutionary Hungarian government has offered the Hungarian throne to King Ferdinand, of Rumania.

Entrance To League.

Santiago, Chile. — The Chilean senate unanimously approved the entrance of Chile into the league of nations.

London. — "If we continue spending at the rate we are now, it will lead straight to national bankruptcy," was the strong warning given by J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, in the house of commons.

"If we cannot increase production," he continued, "we shall go straight to national bankruptcy. Neither increased production nor reduced expenses alone will be sufficient. We have got to do both if we are to pull through and turn the corner. The balance between expenditure and revenue is definitely and seriously less favorable than when I made my budget statement. Both sides of the account are failing to realize expectations."

"The delay in the conclusion of peace involved greater naval and military expenditure, and one or two new blocks of expenditure have been sanctioned."

Mr. Chamberlain cited an additional £20,000,000 for pensions and increased naval pay and £4,500,000 for the police. On the receipts side, the speaker continued, the decision to continue control of food meant delay in realizing on the vast trading in stocks of the food industry and, therefore, £70,000,000 from that source will not reach the exchequer this year.

The whole government, Mr. Chamberlain said, saw the seriousness of the situation and was endeavoring to find a remedy.

Many U. S. Shopmen On Strike

Movement in the Unauthorized Walk-out From Railways Still Spreading.

Chicago. — Leaders of the Chicago district council of the Federated Railway Shopmen's union said that 725,000 was a conservative estimate of the number of shopmen on strike throughout the country and that the movement was still spreading. They declared violence would not be countenanced by the organization and so far as they knew no mail trains had been interfered with.

French Food Plan Is Success.

Paris. — The plan recently adopted by the French food ministry to reduce food prices is working successfully in some of the French cities. At Havre eggs have been reduced from $1.20 per dozen to 60 cents, onions from ten to five cents per pound, and potatoes from four to two cents per pound. The reductions in some foodstuffs vary from 20 to 50 per cent.

Affect Wild Land Tax.

Calgary. — Hon. C. L. Mitchell, acting premier of Alberta, stated that he believed the decision of the privy council against the Hudson Bay Co. in payment of surtax on lands in Saskatchewan would have the effect of producing payment of the wild land tax in Alberta on the company lands. Mr. Mitchell estimated this accumulated tax now totalled half a million.

Villa Bandits Surrender.

Galveston, Texas. — Eighty-three Villa bandits were killed, 33 taken prisoners and 116 rifles and 50 wounded horses captured, in a battle between Carranza troops, under command of Gen. Carlos Ozcuna, and Villistas, under Martin Lopez, near Balleza, Chihuahua, Aug. 2, according to an official telegram to the Mexican consuls.

Rumania Must Observe Terms Of Armistice

Paris. — Nicholas Misu, of the Rumanian peace delegation, was summoned before the supreme council which gave him a communication for his government, saying that the Rumanian ultimatum to Hungary cannot be recognized by the peace conference and calling upon the Rumanians to live up to the armistice terms. Misu said that the Rumanians were taking back supplies which German Field Marshal Von Mackensen took from them, but this explanation, did not alter the decision of the supreme council, which was unanimous.

While the French hitherto apparently were inclined to regard Rumanian occupation of Budapest favorably, it was evident at the last council meeting that they have changed their position since the Rumanian ultimatum and are now heartily in accord with the British and United States position which the Italians have been supporting consistently.

It was made clear at the meeting that the Rumanian ambitions would cut off the communications of Central Europe and make it impossible to control the situation.

The text of the Rumanian ultimatum reads as follows:

"The Rumanian supreme command makes the following conditions upon which it will accept the cessation of hostilities requested by the Hungarian government.

"The Rumanian supreme command will give up the occupation of all Hungary, if the Hungarian supreme command agrees to deliver all material of war of every kind which remains in possession of the Hungarian troops and state.

"Equipment of all kinds needed for an army of 300,000 men must be handed over along with the following: 50 per cent. of all the rolling stock which still belongs to Hungary, according to the records of the Hungarian state; 50 per cent. of all the material which exists in Hungary and is used for the construction and repairs of rolling stock; 200 touring cars; 400 motor trucks in good condition; 30 per cent. of all livestock animals of all kinds which exist at present, according to the records in Hungary."

U.S. Takes Action To Stop Profiteering

Washington. — Anti-trust suits against the great meat packing firms were announced by Attorney-General Palmer as the first concrete development of the government's campaign to reduce the high cost of living.

Armour, Swift, Morris, Wilson and Cudahy, who have been pictured in the investigations of the federal trade commission and before congressional committees as a great commission in control of food products, are to be hauled again before the federal courts by special prosecutors. The evidence in hand, Attorney-General Palmer declared, indicated "a clear violation of the anti-trust laws."

While he was announcing prosecutions of the packers, Attorney-General Palmer was unleashing his special agents on a country-wide trial of profiteering and food hoarding. These prosecutions come under the food control law. All United States attorneys were instructed to ferret out food hoarders, and libel them under federal law. Another major development of the day was the making public of the federal trade commission's report on the shoe industry investigation. This report charges that the high price of shoes is due to excessive profit-taking from every dealer in the trade. Packers, tanners, manufacturers and retailers all share in the blame. The report was placed before Attorney-General Palmer.
